

Together at the table... Slavic's & Romanian's.

Springfield, Missouri – Today Scott Temple, Director of Ethnic Relations for The General Council of the Assemblies of God, was afforded a unique opportunity to sit down to lunch with two Springfield pastors. What made it unique was the fact that the pastors were Romanian and Slavic. In the not-so-distant past one was under military control over the other. Today they are brothers in the Lord and working with the same passion to win the lost.

Ionel Popa is the pastor of Ebenezer Romanian Assembly and Mykola Illyuk is the pastor of Bread of Life Slavic Church, both in the Springfield, Missouri area. They met for the first time today and were able to share stories of their individual histories and how far God's faithfulness has brought them. Be looking for more of their story in the PE News!
